It is a flexible combination of theoretical and practical learning such as Project Learning, Outbound Training, Syllabi Learning and Industrial Training. It aims to enable the students to understand fundamental theories & concepts to develop beginner's skill set and generic skills through application and practice. It makes students to think out of the box & nurture creativity so that they can explore their career aspiration and orientation for life-long learning and it makes students be a job-creator rather than being a job-seeker.
